

Margaret Atwood and
the Pelee Island Bird Observatory

present

An Evening with Lawrence Hill

WEDNESDAY,
MAY 6, 2015

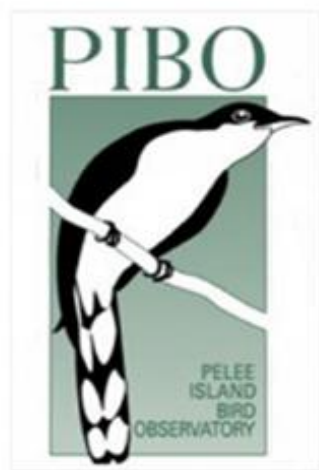

Beach Grove Golf
and Country Club
Reception at 6p.m.
Dinner at 7p.m.

Live and silent auctions

Books for sale thanks to the University of Windsor Bookstore

Complimentary wine at each table

Tickets $125/person, charitable receipt issued for portion of the cost

Proceeds support the Pelee Island Bird Observatory (www.pibo.ca)

For tickets, contact Paul Vasey:
paulvasey@gmail.com

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Lawrence Hill is the author of nine books, including The Book of Negroes, an international bestseller and winner of various awards including The Commonwealth Writers' Prize and the English and French Canadian versions of CBC Radio's Canada Reads.

He travelled across Canada to deliver the 2013 Massey Lectures, based on his non-fiction book Blood: The Stuff of Life (House of Anansi Press). He is finishing a new novel and co-wrote the adaptation for a six-part television miniseries of The Book of Negroes, which was filmed in South Africa and Nova Scotia and aired in early 2015 on CBC in Canada and on BET in the USA.

He volunteers with Crossroads International, Book Clubs for Inmates, and with the Black Loyalist Heritage Society, and lives in Hamilton, Ontario.

www.lawrencehill.com and www.facebook.com/LawrenceHillAuthor